With over 10,000 new words added to the latest version of the Merriam-Webster Collegiate Dictionary, it's hard to dispute the ever-evolving nature of the English language. Here are some Eleventh Edition newcomers...

Frankenfood - Genetically engineered food.

McJob - A low-paying job that requires little skill and provides little opportunity for advancement.

Longneck - Beer served in a bottle that has a long neck.

Rogart - To use or consume without sharing. "To rogart a pint."

Clack-handed - English dialect for left-handed or clumsy.

NIMBY (Not In My Backyard) - The opposition to the location of something undesirable in one's neighborhood.

Comb-over - An arrangement of hair on a balding man in which hair from the side of the head is combed over the bald spot.

Goth - Rock music marked by dark and morbid lyrics or a person who wears mostly black clothing, uses dark makeup and often has dyed black hair.

Dead presidents - US money in the form of bills.

Headbanger - A musician who performs hard rock or a fan of hard rock.

Breveski - Beer.

Phat - Attractive or gratifying.

highsocietyhideaway

This Palm Springs hideaway has held more celebrity sleepovers than... well... anyway. Originally built for Ivy Baker Priest, America's first female treasurer, Villa Vista has since hosted her daughter Pat Priest of The Munsters, as well as Frank Sinatra, Elvis Presley and even live and Mame Eberhoffer. Now you can stay here too.

Nestled in the foothills of California's San Jacinto Mountains, this modernist masterpiece is a gated three-bedroom estate that has recently been restored to its 1950s glory. The villa, which features a pool and a 10-person jacuzzi, is located within five minutes of two golf courses. There is also an on-call houseman and, if you still need convincing, a regulation, paddle tennis court. From $950 to $1250 per night. www.villavistapalm Springs.com

For those who enjoy alcohol consumption, we are doing the socially responsible thing by recommending RU-21, a patented product from Russia designed to help you feel better in preventing the harmful effects of acetaldehyde, a cancer-causing byproduct of alcohol metabolism. Just remember, the first step in addressing you have a problem... www.ru-21.com.

College students drink an estimated 4 billion cans of beer annually • The Pentagon has 691 drinking fountains and 284 restrooms • Over 25,000 umbrellas are lost each year on the London transit system • Just 4 Euros gets you into the Paris Sewer Museum • In 1997, Leno, Letterman and Conan made President Bill Clinton the target of 810 jokes • Banging your head against a wall burns 150 calories an hour
